PAUL RUDD

behind the name...

DJ, producer, songwriter and radio host Paul Rudd has been active in dance music since the late 1990s, first gaining recognition after winning Capital Radio's Search For A Star competition in London.

He went on to DJ across the UK and internationally while building his name as a remixer and recording artist, achieving multiple UK Club Chart Top 5 positions and international dance chart success.

His weekly radio show Globalsessions officially launched in 2014, evolving through several formats before forming a global partnership with Syndicast in 2022.

Since then, the show has grown rapidly – now surpassing 200 episodes and reaching a weekly audience of millions across 45+ countries on over 150 radio stations worldwide.

Alongside touring and broadcasting, Paul continues to produce new material, with fresh releases scheduled for 2026 – marking the next phase of an ongoing career in global dance music.
