

LIANHEART - PRESS PACK

Tech House - Progressive House - Deep Tech

BIOGRAPHY

Portuguese Dj and producer based in Ibiza, Lianheart has been active in the electronic music scene for more than 25 years. His sound blends tech house, deep tech and progressive-tribal influences, always driven by groove, precision and a long-standing discipline in music selection. Over the years, he has released music on respected underground labels in Europe and the United States, and his productions has quietly circulated among established names in the industry. His journey has also taken him through Portugal, Spain, France, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Belgium and the Netherlands, where he has built genuine ties within the club culture. With Lianheart, experience becomes identity. A mature approach, a refined ear, and a focus on substance over trends. His weekly radioshow "Lights Off" reflects the same vision. A curated space for deep, stripped and instinctive house music.

LIGHTS OFF

Weekly radioshow by Lianheart. A focused blend of tech house, deep tech and progressive tribal tension. Just precision, groove, and a mature ear built over 25 years in the scene. Each episode is curated from fresh, current underground releases, keeping the sound sharp, modern and instinctive. Music designed for the moments where the atmosphere speaks louder than the crowd.
